Use of Special Tests Offered in Wagyu

Opinion: Jimmy Webb DVM/JW Wagyu

There are at least three genetic tests offered regarding meat quality and growth that are commonly used by Wagyu breeders in North America. SCD Fat and Tenderness are usually done together. Then there is the GH Exon 5 test. These tests are described in detail on the American Wagyu Association website and I would refer you there for explanation and details.

What I will say is that they are only part of the genetic picture of these wonderful cattle. This is good, accurate, information about qualitative fat and tenderness of meat, with the SCD fat and Tenderness scores; and the GH Exon 5 test gives us some specific indication of growth and marbling.

Some may argue that these scores/measures do not mean much. We have few numbers of Wagyu in North America that make progeny testing difficult, but we are making progress. I think that as long as the information we receive is correct, and we use common sense in applying it, we can benefit from it. Just remember, there is much more to a Wagyu cow or bull than being AA 10 with a CC Exon 5 score. Open your eyes (and your mouths).

JW WAGYU BREEDING PHILOSOPHY

When we step back and consider how we should approach mating and breeding these very special cows, the first thing to consider for us to do is not to mess up the wonderful meat that these cattle produce. We feel it is a good idea to keep around 50% Tajima breeding in a Wagyu male or female when possible. Then look to improve the combination with a balanced approach. We can work on size, maternal traits, and other things, but do not forget the meat!

Another tool we have through the American Wagyu Association is the inbreeding coefficient monitor that can give us the inbreeding coefficient per cent of a mating or potential mating of two fullblood registered parents. We like to keep this level at 10% or below when possible.

The last thing I would mention is the handling of undesirable recessive genes. JW Wagyu makes every effort to avoid the transmission of undesirable recessive genes to future generations. We recognize that there have been outstanding Wagyu that have made positive contributions to the breed that were/are carriers of these genes (068 and Itomoritaka to name two), but we have good sons of these bulls to carry on these genetics. We feel any Wagyu to be used in seedstock production should be free of undesirable recessives by pedigree or by test.

JW's STORY

Jimmy Webb was born and raised in Central Mississippi. There he developed his first two loves; cattle and football. These two loves would drive him to great success in both fields. After a successful college football career at Mississippi State, he was named as a first team All American Defensive Lineman and was selected in the first round of the 1975 NFL Draft with the tenth overall pick by the San Francisco 49'ers. He went on to play six seasons with the 49'ers and one with the San Diego Chargers.

After his second season in the NFL he was accepted into the first class of the Mississippi State Veterinary School. He went on to complete his doctorate in veterinary medicine between football seasons in 1982. Dr. Webb is one of two who have been both an active player in the NFL and a licensed veterinarian.

After completing his football career, Dr. Webb has spent the last 30 years working with cattlemen throughout United States to improve the performance of their herds through genetics. He has been an active member of the American Embryo Transfer Association for the past 33 years and served as president of the AETA from 1991 to 1992. He remains an active embryo transfer practitioner in Central California.

Jimmy and his wife of 40 years Cindy have two sons, Josh, who resides in Dallas, Texas with his wife and two sons and Micah who resides in Houston, Texas with his wife and two children.

JW Wagyu was founded by Dr. Jimmy Webb, DVM with the simple goal of developing the finest Full Blood Wagyu cattle for Wagyu producers and breeders. Dr. Webb has taken his experience gained over a 30 year career in bovine genetics and reproduction to develop his own herd of Full Blood Wagyu. Whether you are in need of Wagyu semen, embryos, bulls, heifers or a plan to develop your own herd, JW Wagyu can provide what you need.

These bulls are free of the Undesirable Recessive genes known to Wagyu by test or pedigree.

Sale opener, 191D, is a nice young bull from Lone Mountain's Masahiro, a new Toshiro son. His dam is 103B, a Kitaguni JR daughter from our 541Y cow. This young bull is the highest rated Tenderness score with numbers VA 8.

190D is a younger bull with one of the best pedigrees and the best numbers of the group. His dam is from a Hirashigetayasu son we bred that sold to the AgriBeef program with the Snake River brand. Her dam is the trustworthy Crescent Harbor bred 151X that shows up frequently in our pedigrees. 190D is one of the first sons available from his sire, Koichi, from Lone Mountain. He has a superior SCD Tenderness score of AA 7.

182D is sired by Koichi an up and coming young bull from Lone Mountain. Koichi is sired by Kitaguni JR and his dam is by Yasafuku JR. These are two bulls good to have in the pedigree. The dam, 107B, is a very balanced young Akiyoshi daughter with Crescent Harbor roots including Hirashigetayasu. Really solid SCD Tenderness at AA 6.

174D has Z278 as his sire. We have used this sire on Shigeshigetani daughters and come away with nice offspring. With 500y in this pedigree, this bull should deliver outstanding genetics. He has a solid SCD Tenderness at AA 5.

167D is a son of Z278. He has a lot of size and power mixed with one of our favorite cows, 151X, developed as one of our first females from the highly regarded Crescent Harbor Ranch in Washington state. Sanjirou and Kikuyasu-400 on the bottom side stack this pedigree well. AA 4

160D is the highlight of this group. He is the full brother to B113 our first Michiyoshi son with AA 9 numbers from 500Y that sold in the Prime Time International Sale last year for $10,100. Michiyoshi is dead and there is very little semen left from him. He is one of the highest ranked bulls in several categories in the most recent Wagyu sire summary including marbling and rib eye area. This mating with 500Y is the complete package. 160D is AA 6.

Bid at www.rrmarketplace.com

158D is next and combines his massive sire, Z278, from Australia that has become a favorite here in the USA transmitting much needed stature to these special cattle. With additional marbling from the bottom side from 068, Michifuku, and Takazakura, this bull has it all lined up for you. He also has nice numbers at AA 5.

Bid at www.rrmarketplace.com

154D is nice, well-muscled bull who brings in Hirashigetayasu as his sire. Another bull that gives us some size and substance without sacrificing meat quality. His dam is 106A who raised a very nice calf of her own and is by, you guessed it Shigeshigetani. 500Y is her dam. This bull is AA 4 also.

148D is one of three Shigeshigetani sons from our top cow, 500Y. He takes the Shigeshigetani in another direction with a SCD/TEN of VA 7. Notice this tenderness level that this bull has. This is among the highest ratings for tenderness for a Shigeshigetani son. You can do a lot with any of these three bulls. We must give credit to Bob Estrin as 500Y came to us as an embryo from Lone Mountain.

This intriguing pedigree that joins the highly respected Shigeshigetani with this blockbuster dam, 500Y, who combines arguably the top marbling bull to ever set foot on American soil, 068, with the power and balance of Itomichi ½. 144c's SCD/TEN is AA 5. You will seldom see a Shigeshigetani son with these numbers.
